

FPN Introduction Days 2023

Dear student,

You are about to start your studies at FPN and we're very much looking forward to seeing you on campus soon! With this email, we would like to tell you a bit more about FPN and the building blocks that serve as foundation for your bachelor programme.

About FPN and your bachelor programme

Shaped by the people who work and study here, our faculty has been built on the pillars of Problem-Based Learning, a thorough introduction to Psychology as well as excellent research on the brain and human behaviour.

On this foundation, since our founding in 1995, we have been innovating in order to attune our programme to the societal needs of the moment. Themes such as 21st century skills, global citizenship and employability are key in further developing our curriculum.

Future-proofing your programme in the coming years, we are introducing trainings related to open feedback, self-reflection and communication. This in order to focus on your personal skills development and to ease into a start with assessments that reflect upon those.

Our programme further builds on lifelong learning and in a few years, you will become part of our close-knit alumni network with over 8000 psychologists. And it doesn't stop there. In various professions you will contribute to e.g. (researching) the wellbeing of people, human impact on societal themes and vice versa as well as the related behavioural interventions.

Students are happy with our programme, which our consistent first place ranking in the Dutch study guide 'Keuzegids Universiteiten' reflects. By combining said solid foundation whilst at the same time adapting necessary parts of the curriculum, we aspire to maintain this level of high-quality education. This way, you'll be optimally equipped in creating solutions and dealing with the situations at hand when it comes to your future self and work.
