The gist (pun intended) of it to try to help struggling students in studies by finding a study partner, this will help them stay disciplined and focused on studies. If needed, they can also find tutors that will receive small rewards that are specified on their profile.

Log-in is done using university's ID and student number, to garantuee the scurity and integrity of those on the plaform.

Tutors are reviewed by their previous students to maintian a good quality versus the cost.

Tutors are askied to complete their profile straight after loging in. They can declare themselves open or closed for new requests.
