

Erika Bochereau

Erika Bochereau is the Secretary General of the Confédération Internationale des Négociants en Œuvres d'Art (CINOA) the principal art and antiques federation in the world, representing over 33 associations in 20+ countries. Established in 1935, CINOA's objective is to represent and promote the responsible trade in art, antiquities and antiques.

Erika returned to her passion for art and collecting when she began working for CINOA in 2005 after nearly 20 years of experience in international organisations including art galleries, investment firms, and a supply chain management association.

Erika holds a degree in International Business from the American University of Paris.
