

Lecture Series

General Conditions

Why these Lecture Series?

Being a university student is of course about becoming a specialist in the field of your study. Besides this, at a university, the academic aspect plays an important role. This means that it can be useful to broaden your horizon and look over the borders of your study to learn about other aspects of knowledge. This intellectual education can make a difference: it will enable you to put things into perspective, help you with analyzing and forming opinions on political, cultural and social issues. Thus lecture series are a way of improving yourself intellectually.

Certificate

Those who register for a whole series, can get a certificate if they miss a maximum of one lecture. They need to sign in at the beginning of each lecture.

Individual Lectures

It is best of course to register for a complete series. The teachers can refer to previous lectures. But, if there is room, it is also possible to register for individual lectures. Those who register for a complete series have priority.

Registration, prices and reductions

One has to register for the lecture series. Payment can be done after registration. Those who register for a complete series have priority to those who want to come to individual lectures.

To register for the series or the individual lectures, go to the specific series you want to attend on our website.

PRICES

There are fixed prices for the regular lecture series of Studium Generale. But when working together with other organisations, i.e. the so-called Gezondheidsuniversiteit (Health University), prices may vary.

Prices mentioned on the website are for the complete series. These prices are with a discount.

Payment for each individual lecture is more expensive than paying for all the lectures at once. Prices for the individual lectures are:

UM Students € 2,50

UM Employees and students from other schools € 6,25

Others € 12,50

Registrations for individual lectures is possible when there are places left.
